Welcome to the Masters of Interior Design (MID) program at the University of Manitoba!

Students who are eligible to register for the MID program should have received a more detailed acceptance letter in June. This letter should help you with preparations for the fall including the list of courses you will need to register for in the 2020-21 academic year. Like other universities in North America responding to the COVID-19 pandemic, the University of Manitoba will, with few exceptions, offer courses remotely in the Fall of 2020. The Department of Interior Design will offer all MID One courses remotely except IDES 7200 Masters of Interior Design Studio One in the fall term.
