COURSE DESCRIPTION

Studies in PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY are focused upon the thin surface layer of the Earth where land, air, and water meet. The topics included in this introductory course appear as parts of many disciplines such as: Geology, Meteorology, Climatology, Biology, Pedology and Oceanography; but the basic concern of those who study Physical Geography is to investigate the ways in which phenomena associated with these various disciplines interact with one another, over different spatial scales. Humans are becoming increasingly aware of the significance of changes that occur in the physical environment. We are at last beginning to realize that we too have an impact upon the environment, and that the consequences of our actions may have a positive or a negative effect.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Understand the main spheres or realms of the Earth system including the atmosphere, lithosphere, hydrosphere and biosphere;
- Describe the global energy budget and the meteorological/climatological variables of the Earth's atmosphere;
- Examine the volcanic/tectonic and external forces that create the physical features on the Earth's surface;
- Explain the role water plays in the various Earth processes;
- Discuss the spatial distribution of plants and animals on the Earth's surface and the factors/processes that control this distribution;
- Develop an understanding of the complex relationships among the basic elements of our physical environment; and
- Gain an awareness of the increasing impact of our activities upon the ever-changing Earth.

TEXTBOOK

Required: Gervais, B. 2019. Living Physical Geography 2nd edition, MacMillan Education ISBN: 9781319056889.

EVALUATION

Term Tests (x2): 50% (25% each test)
Final Exam: 50%

FINAL GRADE ALLOCATION

A+	90% or above	B+	75% - 79%	C+	65% - 69%	D	50% - 59%
A	80% - 89%	B	70% - 74%	C	60% - 64%	F	49% or below

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

- A high level of student cooperation and participation, involving asking and answering questions during the lectures.
- Cell phones and portable music players must be turned off during lectures. Students are also required to remove earphones. NO TEXTING DURING CLASS. Students may use laptops/tablets to take course notes in class. Student should not participate in personal direct electronic messaging / posting activities (e-mail, texting, video or voice chat, wikis, blogs, social networking (e.g. Facebook) online and offline “gaming” during scheduled class time. If student is on call (emergency) the student should switch his/her cell phone on vibrate mode and leave the classroom before using it.
- Students are required to attend all lectures and take notes. Students are expected to be punctual for classes. Not all material presented in the lectures is covered in the text. If you miss a lecture, make arrangements to get notes from a fellow student, not from instructor. Lecture slides will not be provided on UMLearn (the learning management tool).
- The individual student is required to read the assigned chapters of the textbook prior to class. Not all the textbook will be covered in the lectures but may be covered on the quiz or exam.
- The University requires all students to activate an official University email account. For full details of the Electronic Communication with Students please visit:
https://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/electronic_communication_with_students_policy.html
- Please note that all communication between myself and you as a student must comply with the electronic communication with student policy (https://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/electronic_communication_with_students_policy.html). You are required to obtain and use your U of M email account for all communication between yourself and the university.

VOLUNTARY WITHDRAWAL DATE

The voluntary withdrawal date is the last date for withdrawing from this course without academic penalty. The voluntary withdrawal date for this course is November 18, 2019. Evaluative feedback for term test will be provided prior to this date.

COURSE POLICIES

Audio/Video Recording: John Iacozza and the University of Manitoba hold copyright over the course materials, presentations and lectures which form part of this course. No audio or video recording of lectures or presentations is allowed in any format, openly or surreptitiously, in whole or in part without permission by John Iacozza. Course materials (both paper and digital) are for the participant’s private study and research.

Feedback: formative (i.e. comments) and summative (i.e. grade) feedback will be provided to the student within two weeks of the term test (or as soon as possible). This feedback will be provided through via paper.

Questions/Concerns: If you are having a problem and want to discuss something, please feel free to see me before/after class, during my office hours or make an appointment at a more convenient time. I can be reached through phone or email (preferred method).

Emails: Ensure that the course name and number are included in the subject line for all emails. Please make sure emails are written in a professional manner, including complete sentences and do not use text language. Emails must be sent from University of Manitoba email accounts; emails from other accounts (such as gmail) will not be responded to. Emails will typically be responded to during regular office hours. You should not expect a response on weekends or in the evenings (i.e. after 4 pm).

Academic Integrity: Academic dishonesty (plagiarism, cheating) is a very serious matter in any academic institution and is dealt with severely at the University of Manitoba.

Plagiarism or any other form of cheating in examinations, term tests or academic work is subject to serious academic penalty (e.g. suspension or expulsion from the faculty or university). Cheating in examinations or tests may take the form of copying from another student or bringing unauthorized materials into the exam room (e.g., crib notes, pagers or cell phones). Exam cheating can also include exam personation (see below). A student found guilty of contributing to cheating in examinations or term assignments is also subject to serious academic penalty, including a grade of zero on the assignment/exam, a final grade of F in the course or expulsion from the University (based on severity of offense).

To plagiarize is to take ideas or words of another person and pass them off as one's own. In short, it is stealing something intangible rather than an object. Plagiarism applies to any written work, in traditional or electronic format, as well as orally or verbally presented work. Obviously it is not necessary to state the source of well-known or easily verifiable facts, but students are expected to appropriately acknowledge the sources of ideas and expressions they use in their written work, whether quoted directly or paraphrased. This applies to diagrams, statistical tables and the like, as well as to written material, and materials or information from Internet sources. Students must use either APA or Chicago styles to properly reference work. Students will be penalized 20% if another style or footnotes are used in the assignment. Information on the acceptable styles is available through the UM Libraries at:
<http://libguides.lib.umanitoba.ca/c.php?g=298394>

To provide adequate and correct documentation is not only an indication of academic honesty but is also a courtesy which enables the reader to consult these sources with ease. Failure to provide appropriate citations constitutes plagiarism. It will also be considered plagiarism and/or cheating if a student submits a term paper written in whole or in part by someone other than him/herself, or copies the answer or answers of another student in any test, examination, or take-home assignment.

Working with other students on assignments, laboratory work, take-home tests, or on-line tests, when this is not permitted by the instructor, can constitute Inappropriate Collaboration and may be subject to penalty under the Student Discipline By-Law.

An assignment which is prepared and submitted for one course should not be used for a different course. This is called "duplicate submission" and represents a form of cheating because course requirements are expected to be fulfilled through original work for each course.

Please familiarize yourself with the University policy on academic dishonesty found on the following website: http://www.umanitoba.ca/student/resource/student_advocacy/cheating_plagiarism_fraud.html. When in doubt about any practice, ask your professor or instructor.

Examinations Personations is when a student who arranges for another individual to undertake or write any nature of examination for and on his/her behalf, as well as the individual who undertakes or writes the examination, will be subject to discipline under the university's Student Discipline Bylaw, which could lead to suspension or expulsion from the university. In addition, the Canadian Criminal Code treats the personation of a candidate at a competitive or qualifying examination held at a university as an offence punishable by summary conviction. Section 362 of the code provides:

Personation at Examination

362. Everyone who falsely, with intent to gain advantage for him/herself or some other person, personates a candidate at a competitive or qualifying examination held under the authority of law or in connection with a university, college or school or who knowingly avails him/herself of the results of such personation is guilty of an offence punishable on summary conviction. 1953-54, c.51, s.347.

Both the personator and the individual who avails him/herself of the personation could be found guilty. Summary conviction could result in a fine being levied or up to two years of imprisonment.

A complete copy of the Final Examination Procedures is available at:
http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/academic/1299.html

Students are encouraged to review the University policy on Responsibilities of Academic Staff with Regards to Students (ROASS): http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/students/278.html

TESTING

The tests and final exam will consist of multiple choice and short answer questions. These questions will be based on lectures, assigned readings and class discussion. No extraneous devices (i.e. dictionaries, cell phones, notes, textbooks, etc.) will be allowed for the tests or final exam. You will need to bring a writing utensil (i.e. pencil/pen) and a form of identification (Student ID card preferred). The term tests will be written during class time and the final exam in December during the exam period. The tests will not be cumulative, but the final exam will be based on the entire course material. (The final exam is broken down based on: 25% of the exam will be based on material from the first test, 25% from the second test material, and 50% from material not covered on either test).

The student is responsible for providing written proof of either illness or compassionate distress in order to be allowed to write a make up test. Please let me know of your situation promptly and present written proof within two (2) working days. Please see list below for acceptable and unacceptable reasons for rewriting the term tests.

Reasons for granting an extension (term test): a death in your immediate family, an illness in either yourself or in a dependent (requires written note from a doctor dated BEFORE the assignment is due), and required to travel for work. The Instructor will not accept a note dated AFTER the due date.

Reasons for not granting an extension: having another assignment due at a similar time/day, being away from the university for a personal reason (i.e. holiday or personal vacation), being too busy with other course work (i.e. having a midterm that same day or week), not attending the lectures due to personal or compassionate reasons (or other reasons), car broke down and could not submit assignment on time, computer is not working properly and you lost the assignment, or any other reason deemed inappropriate by the instructor. This is not an exhaustive list. Please don't ask for an extension if any of these or similar reasons apply. If you know that you will be away, you MUST submit the assignment before the due date.

If you miss the final exam due to illness or compassionate reasons, you must make arrangements with your own Faculty office.

USING COPYRIGHTED MATERIAL

Please respect copyright. We will use copyrighted content in this course. I have ensured that the content I use is appropriately acknowledged and is copied in accordance with copyright laws and University guidelines. Copyrighted works, including those created by me, are made available for private study and research and must not be distributed in any format without permission. Do not upload copyrighted works to a learning management system (such as UM Learn), or any website, unless an exception to the Copyright Act applies or written permission has been confirmed.

SPECIAL NEEDS

Students with disability-related needs or are experiencing difficulty should discuss issues with a councillor in one of the following Student Affairs offices as soon as possible. You can also discuss any issues with your instructor, who can direct you to appropriate institutional resources. Student accessibility services (SAS) can facilitate any necessary accommodations for the student. If applicable, please see the Instructor regarding the accommodations recommended by SAS.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

A list of academic supports available to Students:

Writing and Learning Support

The Academic Learning Centre (ALC) offers services that may be helpful to you throughout your academic program. Through the ALC, you can meet with a learning specialist to discuss concerns such as time management, learning strategies, and test-taking strategies. The ALC also offers peer supported study groups called Supplemental Instruction (SI) for certain courses that students have typically found difficult. In these study groups, students have opportunities to ask questions, compare notes, discuss content, solve practice problems, and develop new study strategies in a group-learning format.

You can also meet one-to-one with a writing tutor who can give you feedback at any stage of the writing process, whether you are just beginning to work on a written assignment or already have a draft. If you are interested in meeting with a writing tutor, reserve your appointment two to three days in advance of the time you would like to meet. Also, plan to meet with a writing tutor a few days before your paper is due so that you have time to work with the tutor's feedback.

These Academic Learning Centre services are free for U of M students. For more information, please visit the Academic Learning Centre website at: <http://umanitoba.ca/student/academiclearning/>

You can also contact the Academic Learning Centre by calling 204-480-1481 or by visiting 201 Tier Building.

University of Manitoba Libraries (UML)

As the primary contact for all research needs, your liaison librarian can play a vital role when completing academic papers and assignments. Liaisons can answer questions about managing citations, or locating appropriate resources, and will address any other concerns you may have, regarding the research process. Liaisons can be contacted by email or phone, and are also available to meet with you in-person. A complete list of liaison librarians can be found by subject: <http://bit.ly/WcEbA1> or name: <http://bit.ly/1tJ0bB4>. In addition, general library assistance is provided in person at 19 University Libraries, located on both the Fort Garry and Bannatyne campuses, as well as in many Winnipeg hospitals. For a listing of all libraries, please consult the following: <http://bit.ly/1sXe6RA>. When working remotely, students can also receive help online, via the Ask-a-Librarian chat found on the Libraries' homepage: www.umanitoba.ca/libraries.

Copyright

All students are required to respect copyright as per Canada's Copyright Act. Staff and students play a key role in the University's copyright compliance as we balance user rights for educational purposes with the rights of content creators from around the world. The Copyright Office provides copyright resources and support for all members of the University of Manitoba community. Visit <http://umanitoba.ca/copyright> for more information.

Your Rights and Responsibilities

As a student of the University of Manitoba you have rights and responsibilities. It is important for you to know what you can expect from the University as a student and to understand what the University expects from you. Become familiar with the policies and procedures of the University and the regulations that are specific to your faculty, college or school.

The Academic Calendar <http://umanitoba.ca/student/records/academiccalendar.html> is one important source of information. View the sections University Policies and Procedures and General Academic Regulations.

While all of the information contained in these two sections is important, the following information is highlighted.

- If you have questions about your grades, talk to your instructor. There is a process for term work and final grade appeals. Note that you have the right to access your final examination scripts. See the Registrar's Office website for more information including appeal deadline dates and the appeal form <http://umanitoba.ca/registrar/>
- You are expected to view the General Academic Regulation section within the Academic Calendar and specifically read the Academic Integrity regulation. Consult the course syllabus or ask your instructor for additional information about demonstrating academic integrity in your academic work. Visit the Academic Integrity Site for tools and support <http://umanitoba.ca/academicintegrity/> View the Student Academic Misconduct procedure for more information.

Respectful Work and Learning Environment

The University is committed to a respectful work and learning environment. You have the right to be treated with respect and you are expected to conduct yourself in an appropriate respectful manner. Policies governing behavior include the:
