Course Description

Tourism is one of the world's fastest growing industries seeing a net increase of 6% in 2018 with over 1.4 billion tourist arrivals. As a result, it has significant implications for national economies, cultures and environments. As tourism both depends upon and impacts the environment, understanding the complex interaction between tourism demand and destinations is a fundamental key to achieving sustainability. In this course will examine what it is that makes a destination attractive, (Natural and Cultural Attractions) and how they influence the type of tourism that occurs at any particular location and the impacts that tourism has on these locations. Finally students will gain an understanding of how the strategies available can prevent or mitigate these impacts.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- Understand the complexity of tourism and the main sectors of the tourism industry
- Describe Tourism's reliance on climate and ecosystem stability – "Iconic Nature"
- Describe the influence of belief systems and science on constructions of nature
- Understanding tourism as a type of consumerism
- Discuss the modes of nature experience through tourism consumption
- Understand the positive and negative consequences of tourism for the natural environment
- Understand the economics of the use of nature for tourism – Tourism and the "green economy"
- Sustainable tourism and ecotourism
- Understand the interaction of tourism, climate change and natural disasters
- Identify and describe "Overtourism"

Textbook: Readings as assigned

Evaluation: Research Paper (40%), Annotated Bibliography and Outline (10%), Term Tests (30 2x 15), Group Project -Critical review - presentation of a self described “nature/eco tourism” product (20%)

Research paper annotated bibliography (10%) and paper outline. Due October 8

All students will prepare a bibliography of the references that they will use in their paper and submit it for evaluation of its breadth, depth and appropriateness.

Research paper Value 40% of course grade. Due November 7.

Students will be required to a) write a 2500-3000 word research paper focusing on related to tourism and the environment. A list of potential topics will be provided.

In your paper you should clearly outline the nature of the problem you are discussing and develop a “research question” for example “ how does crowding affect the tourism experience”. You should begin the process of researching your papers early in the term to determine what information is available locally and what is needed from document delivery. You will be required to submit an annotated bibliography/outline outline so that I can comment on your progress and make suggestion to improve your paper, and consequently, your mark. Please consult the attached marking guide for details concerning grade weighting.

The research paper should be based upon sound research – e.g. needs assessment, previous knowledge/research, etc. Please see the accompanying marking guide.

Group project Critical Review/presentation 20%. In a small group you will select a tourism “product” that self identifies (or implies) that it is a nature-ecotourism experience and critically evaluate the claims to nature orientation. In your presentation you should describe the product in detail- outlining the characteristics that both contribute to and detract from the products “nature credentials” and its relationship to other nearby products. You should also consider the Destination’s Identity as well and how the product integrates with the Destination’s Branding. Finally, you will summarize the

Mid-term test. Value 15% of the course grade

Final test. Value 15% of course grade.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES

- A high level of student cooperation and participation, involving asking and answering questions during the lectures.
- Cell phones and portable music players must be turned off during lectures. Students are also required to remove earphones. NO TEXTING DURING CLASS. Students may use laptops/tablets to take course notes in class. Student should not participate in personal direct electronic messaging / posting activities (e-mail, texting, video or voice chat, wikis, blogs, social networking (e.g. Facebook) online and offline “gaming” during scheduled class time. If student is on call (emergency) the student should switch his/her cell phone on vibrate mode and leave the classroom before using it.
- Students are required to attend all lectures and take notes. Students are expected to be punctual for classes. Not all material presented in the lectures is covered in the text. If you miss a lecture, make arrangements to get notes from a fellow student, not from instructor! Lecture slides will not be provided on UMLearn (the learning management tool). Failure to attend lectures will result in a poor class participation grade.

- The individual student is required to read the assigned readings prior to class.
- Students are required to complete the necessary quizzes individually and on time, unless otherwise stated. Failure to do so will result in a penalty (see section of course outline on Academic Integrity)
- The University requires all students to activate an official University email account. For full details of the Electronic Communication with Students please visit:
http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/media/Electronic_Communication_with_Students_Policy_-_2014_06_05.pdf
- Please note that all communication between myself and you as a student must comply with the electronic communication with student policy (http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/community/electronic_communication_with_students_policy.html). You are required to obtain and use your U of M email account for all communication between yourself and the university.

VOLUNTARY WITHDRAWAL DATE

The voluntary withdrawal date is the last date for withdrawing from this course without academic penalty. The voluntary withdrawal date for this course is March 20, 2019. Evaluative feedback for term test will be provided prior to this date.

COURSE POLICIES

Audio/Video Recording: Michael Campbell and the University of Manitoba hold copyright over the course materials, presentations and lectures which form part of this course. No audio or video recording of lectures or presentations is allowed in any format, openly or surreptitiously, in whole or in part without permission by Michael Campbell. Course materials (both paper and digital) are for the participant's private study and research.

Feedback: formative (i.e. comments) and summative (i.e. grade) feedback will be provided to the student within two weeks of the term test (or as soon as possible). This feedback will be provided through via paper.

Questions/Concerns: If you are having a problem and want to discuss something, please feel free to see me before/after class, during my office hours or make an appointment at a more convenient time. I can be reached through phone or email (preferred method).

Emails: Ensure that the course name and number are included in the subject line for all emails. Please make sure emails are written in a professional manner, including complete sentences and do not use text language (I am not fluent in shorthand). Please address the email to Michael or Dr. Campbell (not Buddy or any similar terms). Emails must be sent from University of Manitoba email accounts; emails from other accounts (such as gmail) will not be responded to.

Emails will typically be responded to during regular office hours. You should not expect a response on weekends or in the evenings (i.e. after 4 pm).

Academic Integrity: Academic dishonesty (plagiarism, cheating) is a very serious matter in any academic institution and is dealt with severely at the University of Manitoba.

Plagiarism or any other form of cheating in examinations, term tests or academic work is subject to serious academic penalty (e.g. suspension or expulsion from the faculty or university). Cheating in examinations or tests may take the form of copying from another student or bringing unauthorized materials into the exam room (e.g., crib notes, pagers or cell phones). Exam cheating can also include exam personation (see below). A student found guilty of contributing to cheating in examinations or term assignments is also subject to serious academic penalty, including a grade of zero on the assignment/exam, a final grade of F in the course or expulsion from the University (based on severity of offense).

To plagiarize is to take ideas or words of another person and pass them off as one's own. In short, it is stealing something intangible rather than an object. Plagiarism applies to any written work, in traditional or electronic format, as well as orally or verbally presented work. Obviously it is not necessary to state the source of well-known or easily verifiable facts, but students are expected to appropriately acknowledge the sources of ideas and expressions they use in their written work, whether quoted directly or paraphrased. This applies to diagrams, statistical tables and the like, as well as to written material, and materials or information from Internet sources. Students must use either APA or Chicago styles to properly reference work. Students will be penalized 20% if another style or footnotes are used in the assignment. Information on the acceptable styles is available through the UM Libraries at: <http://libguides.lib.umanitoba.ca/c.php?g=298394>

To provide adequate and correct documentation is not only an indication of academic honesty but is also a courtesy which enables the reader to consult these sources with ease. Failure to provide appropriate citations constitutes plagiarism. It will also be considered plagiarism and/or cheating if a student submits a term paper written in whole or in part by someone other than him/herself, or copies the answer or answers of another student in any test, examination, or take-home assignment.

Working with other students on assignments, laboratory work, take-home tests, or on-line tests, when this is not permitted by the instructor, can constitute Inappropriate Collaboration and may be subject to penalty under the Student Discipline By-Law.

An assignment which is prepared and submitted for one course should not be used for a different course. This is called "duplicate submission" and represents a form of cheating because course requirements are expected to be fulfilled through original work for each course.

Please familiarize yourself with the University policy on academic dishonesty found on the following website: http://www.umanitoba.ca/student/resource/student_advocacy/cheating_plagiarism_fraud.html. When in doubt about any practice, ask your professor or instructor.

Examinations Personations is when a student who arranges for another individual to undertake or write any nature of examination for and on his/her behalf, as well as the individual who undertakes or writes the examination, will be subject to discipline under the university's Student Discipline Bylaw, which could lead to suspension or expulsion from the university. In addition, the Canadian Criminal Code treats the personation of a candidate at a competitive or qualifying examination held at a university as an offence punishable by summary conviction. Section 362 of the code provides:

Personation at Examination

362. Everyone who falsely, with intent to gain advantage for him/herself or some other person, personates a candidate at a competitive or qualifying examination held under the authority of law or in connection with a university, college or school or who knowingly avails him/herself of the results of such personation is guilty of an offence punishable on summary conviction. 1953- 54,c.51, s.347.

Both the personator and the individual who avails him/herself of the personation could be found guilty. Summary conviction could result in a fine being levied or up to two years of imprisonment.

A complete copy of the Final Examination Procedures is available at: http://umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/academic/final_examinations_procedures.html

Students are encouraged to review the University policy on Responsibilities of Academic Staff with Regards to Students (ROASS): umanitoba.ca/admin/governance/governing_documents/students/278.html

The student is responsible for providing written proof of either illness or compassionate distress in order to be allowed to write a make up test. Please let me know of your situation promptly and present written proof within five (5) working days. Please see list below for acceptable and unacceptable reasons for rewriting the term tests.

Reasons for granting an extension (term test): a death in your immediate family, an illness in either yourself or in a dependent (requires written note from a doctor dated BEFORE the assignment is due), and required to travel for work. The Instructor will not accept a note dated AFTER the due date.

Reasons for not granting an extension: having another assignment due at a similar time/day, being away from the university for a personal reason (i.e. holiday or personal vacation), being too busy with other course work (i.e. having a midterm that same day or week), not attending the lectures due to personal or compassionate reasons (or other reasons), car broke down and could not submit assignment on time, computer is not working properly and you lost the assignment, or any other reason deemed inappropriate by the instructor. This is not an exhaustive list. Please don't ask for an extension if any of these or similar reasons apply. If you know that you will be away, you MUST submit the assignment before the due date.

If you miss the final exam due to illness or compassionate reasons, you must make arrangements with your own Faculty office.

SPECIAL NEEDS

Students with disability-related needs or are experiencing difficulty should discuss issues with a councillor in one of the following Student Affairs offices as soon as possible. You can also discuss any issues with your instructor, who can direct you to appropriate institutional resources. Student accessibility services (SAS) can facilitate any necessary accommodations for the student. If applicable, please see the Instructor regarding the accommodations recommended by SAS.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

A list of academic supports available to Students:

Writing and Learning Support

The Academic Learning Centre (ALC) offers services that may be helpful to you throughout your academic program. Through the ALC, you can meet with a learning specialist to discuss concerns such as time management, learning strategies, and test-taking strategies. The ALC also offers peer supported study groups called Supplemental Instruction (SI) for certain courses that students have typically found difficult. In these study groups, students have opportunities to ask questions, compare notes, discuss content, solve practice problems, and develop new study strategies in a group-learning format.

You can also meet one-to-one with a writing tutor who can give you feedback at any stage of the writing process, whether you are just beginning to work on a written assignment or already have a draft. If you are interested in meeting with a writing tutor, reserve your appointment two to three days in advance of the time you would like to meet. Also, plan to meet with a writing tutor a few days before your paper is due so that you have time to work with the tutor's feedback.

These Academic Learning Centre services are free for U of M students. For more information, please visit the Academic Learning Centre website at: <http://umanitoba.ca/student/academiclearning/>

You can also contact the Academic Learning Centre by calling 204-480-1481 or by visiting 201 Tier Building.

University of Manitoba Libraries (UML)

As the primary contact for all research needs, your liaison librarian can play a vital role when completing academic papers and assignments. Liaisons can answer questions about managing citations, or locating appropriate resources, and will address any other concerns you may have, regarding the research process. Liaisons can be contacted by email or phone, and are also available to meet with you in-person. A complete list of liaison librarians can be found by subject: <http://bit.ly/WcEbA1> or name: <http://bit.ly/1tJ0bB4>. In addition, general library assistance is provided in person at 19 University Libraries, located on both the Fort Garry and Bannatyne campuses, as well as in many Winnipeg hospitals. For a listing of all libraries, please consult the following: <http://bit.ly/1sXe6RA>. When working remotely, students can also receive help online, via the Ask-a-Librarian chat found on the Libraries' homepage: www.umanitoba.ca/libraries.

Your Rights and Responsibilities

As a student of the University of Manitoba you have rights and responsibilities. It is important for you to know what you can expect from the University as a student and to understand what the University expects from you. Become familiar with the policies and procedures of the University and the regulations that are specific to your faculty, college or school.

The Academic Calendar <http://umanitoba.ca/student/records/academiccalendar.html> is one important source of information. View the sections University Policies and Procedures and General Academic Regulations.

While all of the information contained in these two sections is important, the following information is highlighted.

- If you have questions about your grades, talk to your instructor. There is a process for term work and final grade appeals. Note that you have the right to access your final examination scripts. See the Registrar's Office website for more information including appeal deadline dates and the appeal form <http://umanitoba.ca/registrar/>
- You are expected to view the General Academic Regulation section within the Academic Calendar and specifically read the Academic Integrity regulation. Consult the course syllabus or ask your instructor for additional information about demonstrating academic integrity in your academic work. Visit the Academic Integrity Site for tools and support <http://umanitoba.ca/academicintegrity/> View the Student Academic Misconduct procedure for more information.

Respectful Work and Learning Environment

The University is committed to a respectful work and learning environment. You have the right to be treated with respect and you are expected to conduct yourself in an appropriate respectful manner. Policies governing behavior include the:
