

Riddell Faculty Seminar Series Presents:

What is to be Done?:

Building Alliances between Indigenous and Settler communities through Wakotawin, Solidarity and Decolonization

Dr. Priscilla Settee, Associate Professor,
Department of Indigenous Studies, Women and Gender Studies Program,
University of Saskatchewan

Date: Friday, March 18th, 2016

Time: 9:00 a.m. - 10:00 a.m.

Location: 221 Wallace Building

Abstract: Priscilla Settee's talk will reflect some of the recommendations from the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and describe how allies within higher education and the extended community can respond as solidaritous citizens. Settee's talk will include as an example a gang exiting project called Wakotawin that she and 3 colleagues developed. Wakotawin combines the resources of both university and aspects of Saskatoon's Indigenous community.
