During his international exchange at the Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences, Andrew Vercaigne has grown a network to benefit his career. A volunteer ambassador for the Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences, he gains valuable insight from industry partners: What are they looking for? What’s exciting in the field today? He’s also forging friendships with other students at faculty events as they navigate this evolving profession.

“My advice to students starting university would be to get involved! There are so many great opportunities to meet new people. I have met some of my best friends by getting involved in student groups and participating in faculty events. The people you meet become relationships that you will embrace for the rest of your life and the experiences you have with those friends will teach you even more.”

- University grads can expect their salaries to grow roughly 70 per cent over their first eight years of working.\(^0\)
- 87 per cent of Asper BComm(Hons) graduates were employed full-time after graduating.
- Across Canada, 94 per cent of graduates with a degree in agriculture and 88 per cent of graduates with a degree in food science are employed in related sectors within two years of graduation.
- Arts grads make good money! For example, history graduates earn on average, above $65,000 annually.\(^*\)

“I struggled with balancing the stress of life, school and health. It’s important that as students we learn it’s okay to not be okay. Reaching out for help, and getting involved in my culture were the best decisions I made. I’m thriving this year, now that I’ve learned new coping skills, management tools and have the support of the Indigenous community.”

He stepped out of his comfort zone and into leadership roles. Alumnus Carter Wilson went for it when he steered one of the first large-scale, Indigenous business events ever hosted at the Asper School of Business. It allowed him to share an Indigenous perspective—and the unique barriers faced—with non-Indigenous students. And he continued to raise this dialogue in classrooms and bring his leadership to student groups across campus.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

IF YOU ARE A HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT

If you’re coming to university directly from high school or have completed less than one year of university studies, you’ll take the direct entry route into a faculty or program—this means either beginning in University 1 (U1) or applying to a program that offers a direct entry option.

Unless you want to be considered for an additional direct entry program (other than University 1), you do not need to submit two applications.

UNIVERSITY 1 (U1)

U1 is a unique approach to your first year at the U of M, giving you the opportunity to design an individualized schedule that meets the admission and/or first-year requirements for one or more target degree programs. U1 will not add any time or cost to your degree; it serves as year 1 of any three-year or four-year degree program.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT (AP) AND INTERNATIONAL BACCALAUREATE (IB)

The University of Manitoba recognizes the Advanced Placement (AP) and International Baccalaureate (IB) programs for admission, scholarships and university transfer credit.

The University of Manitoba campuses are located on original lands of Anishinaabeg, Cree, Oji-Cree, Dakota, and Dene peoples, and on the homeland of the Métis Nation. We respect the Treaties that were made on these territories, we acknowledge the harms and mistakes of the past, and we dedicate ourselves to move forward in partnership with Indigenous communities in a spirit of reconciliation and collaboration.

At the University of Manitoba, we are committed to Indigenous achievement and reconciliation, and to equity of access and opportunity for all U of M students, faculty and staff.

We welcome you to a diverse and inclusive learning environment where everyone—from all backgrounds and perspectives—is respected, valued, and can enjoy an exceptional educational experience.
