

ASPER SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

Master of Supply Chain Management and Logistics

Support your company's greatest asset.

The Asper Master of Supply Chain Management and Logistics is an AACSB-accredited program located at the Stu Clark Graduate School, University of Manitoba. This unique-in-Canada professional master's program is designed to prepare students for leadership positions within the broad field of supply chain management and logistics.

Why pay for your employees to enroll in the Master of Supply Chain Management and Logistics program?

SKILLS IN HIGH DEMAND

Prepare your business to meet the growing global demand for trained professionals in the industry. As supply chains increase their reach and complexity, the demand for professionals with the capabilities and skills to manage them will continue to increase domestically and internationally.

Asper graduates will be trained to expose the industry to new, fresh ideas that are at the cutting edge of supply chain management and logistics.

WORLD-CLASS EDUCATION

The Asper School of Business is ranked as one of the top 5% of business schools in the world, resulting in world-class student learning from leading professors in the industry.

IMMEDIATE RETURNS

The Master of Supply Chain Management and Logistics program is the only program in Canada that has a built-in four-month practicum component that can be taken as an applied project or as a co-op. While in the program, students can use their applied project to solve challenges or improve business processes within your organization.

MENTORSHIP IN THE FIELD

Master of Supply Chain Management and Logistics students study and learn from professors working within the University of Manitoba Transport Institute, recognized for defining the future direction of and scholarly research in transportation, logistics and supply chain.

FLEXIBLE SCHEDULES

Students can keep their full-time work schedule while taking the program. Courses are offered evenings and weekends.
