

INTERTONGUING AND TRANSDUCTION: Writing in English, Irish and Scottish Gaelic

Presented by the Native Studies Colloquium Series

Guest Speaker, RODY GORMAN

Writer-in-residence at the Centre for Creative Writing and Oral Culture

Wednesday, October 8, 2008

12:30 p.m. - 1:30 p.m.

307 Tier Building

Rody Gorman is an award-winning poet, visiting from Scotland. A writer, editor and translator, Rody was born in Dublin and now lives on Isle Ornsay, off the Isle of Skye. He has published a number of volumes of poetry, in both Scottish Gaelic and Irish Gaelic. He is also a respected editor, lyricist, essayist, and translator.

EVERYONE WELCOME!

Refreshments to follow