COURSE DESCRIPTION:

This course narrates and analyzes the history of the Vietnam War from the perspective of both Vietnamese and Americans. It begins by outlining the history of Vietnam including French colonial involvement. It focuses on the American stage of the war (1965-75) with its repercussions on the rest of the world.

The course is based on a series of bi-weekly lectures interspersed by a film history of the war produced by PBS. The film series should provide the basis for class discussion both of the war and the way it was represented in the media.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS:

Robert MacNamara, In Retrospect (Times Books)
Truong N. Tang, A Vietnam Memoir (Random)
Phil Caputo, A Rumour of War (Ballantine)

TERM WORK, TESTS, AND EVALUATION:

Class work will be worth 60% of the final grade. There will be a one hour examination February 26 based on two of three essay questions (20%) and an essay (40%) due on the last day of class, April 8, 2016. No late essays will be accepted.

The essay will consist of a 3000 word comparative review of the textbooks and the film series based on the premise "the Vietnam war was a mistake". In each case briefly relate the character of the narrative, its perspective, arguments, emphasis, biases, strengths and omissions as they relate to the premise that the war was a mistake. To what degree does a first person narrative better capture the war than a scholarly account? To what extent do nationality, gender and class affect perspective? What is left unsaid and why?

Keep copies of all work.

Evaluative feedback will be provided prior to the voluntary withdrawal date, March 18, 2016

FINAL EXAMINATION: Based on the full semester's work. You will be required to answer three of five essay questions. (40%)

Academic Dishonesty

The University’s regulations re: plagiarism, cheating and impersonation may be found in the section on “Academic Integrity” of the General Academic Regulations in the online Academic Calendar, and Catalog and the Faculty of Arts regulation at: http://umanitoba.ca/faculties/arts/student_resources/student_responsibilities.html, which reads:

The common penalty in Arts for plagiarism on a written assignment is a grade of F on the paper and a final grade of F (DISC) (for Disciplinary Action) for the course. For the most serious acts of plagiarism, such as purchase of an essay and repeat violations, this penalty can also include suspension for a period of up to five (5) years from registration in courses taught in a particular department/program in Arts or from all courses taught in this Faculty.

The Faculty also reserves the right to submit student work that is suspected of being plagiarized to Internet sites designed to detect plagiarism or to other experts for authentication.

The common penalty in Arts for academic dishonesty on a test or examination is F for the paper, F (DISC) for the course, and a one-year suspension from courses acceptable for credit in the Faculty. For more serious acts of academic dishonesty on a test or examination, such as repeat violations, this penalty can also include suspension for a period of up to five years from registration in courses taught in a particular department or program in Arts or from all courses taught in or accepted for credit by this Faculty.

Student Resources

You have access to several important resources to help you navigate your classes and university life more generally. There are writing tutors available to help you with your essays through the Academic Learning Centre (ALC): http://umanitoba.ca/student/academiclearning/ The ALC page also has resources to help you with study skills, organization, as well as assistance for students using English as an Additional Language (EAL). Other issues, including accessibility services, workshops, and tips about academic integrity are addressed at the Student Advocacy Services webpage (http://umanitoba.ca/student/resource/student_advocacy/). The History department will also make a writing tutor available exclusively to History students in the department on two days of the week. More information about scheduling etc TBA.

All of the above services can also be accessed under the heading of Student Resources on the Student Affairs website: http://umanitoba.ca/student/studentlife/index.html

History students can also take advantage of the huge range of academic materials (including primary and secondary sources, as well as pages to help with writing and referencing) made available by the History subject librarian, Kyle Feenstra, tailored just for you! They are available on the Libraries page at this link: http://libguides.lib.umanitoba.ca/content.php?pid=219304
