INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITY - VERY SHORT NOTICE!

Art Librarianship and Archive Internships
TD is sponsoring paid internships that offer study and training opportunities and work experience in the field of Art Librarianship and Archive Practice. Candidates must have completed an undergraduate degree in art history or studio and completed the first year of a master's degree in archives, library and information management. Applicants should have interest in working in the following areas: Library - the intern will assume principal responsibility for the project to establish a complete record of the exhibition history of the Canadian Museum of Contemporary Photography. Archives - the intern will participate in the project to sort, analyze, arrange, describe and create a finding aid for a donation of the archival papers of a Canadian artist. Full training will be provided for the specific project work. In addition, interns will receive a general overview of the activities of the Library and Archives, including introductions to programs in collections development, collections management, reader services, and archives management. Internships will be for a term of 16 weeks and remuneration is $9,250. The residency must be completed between May 1, 2011 and April 30, 2012. Applications must state clearly the area of study (Art Librarianship & Archive Practice) and must include the following: the proposed dates of the internship; a full CV, 2 letters of recommendation from previous or current employers and/or educational institutions, to be sent under separate cover to the National Gallery. These letters must address the candidate's aptitudes and achievements, and assess the relevance of the internship to the candidate's career development. Applications and letters of recommendation must be postmarked no later than APRIL 1, and sent to: Sandii Paquette, Human Resources Advisor, National Gallery of Canada, 380 Sussex Drive, P.O. Box 427, Station A, Ottawa, ON, K1N 9N4, internships@gallery.ca.

COOK continued

Although no longer actively teaching in the Archival Studies stream of the JMP in the History Department (as he did from 1998 to 2010), Terry Cook has been appointed an Adjunct Professor to complete his supervision of several M.A. theses for his more recent students. It is, therefore, as a professor in our Department that he was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of Canada in 2010, the first scholar to be so recognized for specializing in the academic discipline of Archival Studies.

NOMINATIONS SOUGHT

World Innovative Summit for Education Prize requests nominations for the WISE Prize for Education up until April 30. Nominations will be invited from institutions with a demonstrable commitment to education, such as universities, schools, colleges, teachers' organizations, research facilities, international organizations, non-governmental organizations, governments and private corporations. Some individuals of internationally high repute may also be asked to submit nominations. Self-nominations will not be accepted. The nominees will be screened by an 11-person WISE Prize Committee which will make a pre-selection of no more than 15. An International Jury of five distinguished individuals will consider the 15 final nominations and select a winner who will receive an award of $500,000 and a gold medal. The first annual WISE Prize for Education will be awarded at the WISE 2011 Summit in Doha, Qatar. To nominate a candidate for the Prize, please enquire via the website www.wiseprizeforeducation.org.
