Readings:

Emile Durkheim, The Division of Labor in Society, Free Press.
Karl Marx and F. Engels, The Marx-Engels Reader, edited by Robert C. Tucker, W. W. Norton and Company.
Max Weber, On Charisma and Institution Building, edited by S.N. Eisenstadt, University of Chicago Press.

Course Objective:

To study from various fundamental works of the sociological tradition.

Class Schedule:

Classes will be divided into three periods: the first three to four weeks on Durkheim, then five weeks on Marx, and finally three to four weeks on Weber.

Assignments:

1. One essay test on Durkheim, written in class on Monday, September 30th. This will count for 30% of the final grade. The essay topic will be given out one week before the test.
2. One short essay on Marx, approx. 900 words. The topic will be given out on Friday, October 4th, to be due on Wednesday, October 9th. As the class on the day this essay is due will be dealing with the same topic as the essay submitted, no late papers will be permitted. The essay will count for 20% of the final grade.
3. A 1200 word essay on Marx, due Wednesday, November 6th, worth 30% of the final grade. The exact topic will be assigned 2 weeks before it is due.
4. An essay test on Weber, written in class on Wednesday, December 4th, worth 20% of the final grade.

Students can expect to receive their assignment or test grades 10 days after the due date of the test or assignment.

GRADING SCALE

Your work is being evaluated on a letter grade system, not on a point system that is converted to a letter grade. The main benchmarks for the grade ranges can be described as follows:

D/F= an answer which is factually weak, faulty analysis, and very poor organization.

C= an answer which is mostly complete in terms of facts but suffers from poor analysis, organization and integration. Knowing the facts is a good start, but only a beginning.

B= answer is factually accurate and mostly complete as well as organized and integrated.

A= answer factually complete, well organized, sophisticated analysis which demonstrates a good degree of comprehension.

Make-up tests or late assignments except for legitimate reasons (e.g., illness as attested by a medical certificate) will be reduced by one half grade.

Voluntary Withdrawal Date: November 18, 2019.

Note: Students should acquaint themselves with the University's policy on plagiarism, cheating, exam personation, ("Personation at Examinations" (Section 5.2.9) and "Plagiarism and cheating" (Section 8.1)) and duplicate submission by reading documentation provided at the Arts Student Resources web site at http://umanitoba.ca/faculties/arts/student_resources/student_responsibilites_integrity.html . Ignorance of the regulations and policies regarding academic integrity is not a valid excuse for violating them.

Any term work that has not been claimed by students will be held for four (4) months from the end of the final examination period for the term in which the work was assigned. At the conclusion of this time, all unclaimed term work will become property of the Faculty of Arts and be destroyed according to FIPPA guidelines and using confidential measures for disposal.
