Course Description: This course is designed to provide students with a detailed understanding of the history and development of issues surrounding youth deviance, the regulation of youth and the treatment of young offenders in the criminal justice system. The course will cover topics including: historical perspectives on changing role of children and youth in Canadian society; legislation dealing with young offenders (JDA, YOA, YCJA); young offenders and their representation in the media; current research and statistical data on the nature and extent of youth crime and violence; youth crime prevention, and the treatment of young offenders in the Canadian criminal justice system; and the treatment of young offenders in systems outside of North America. The course will also introduce students to research on the limitations of system based responses. This approach is aimed at generating new policy ideas and recommendations needed to bring about progressive changes for youth.

Minaker, Joanne C., and Bryan Hogeveen Youth Crime and Society: Issues of Power and Justice Toronto: Pearson Education Canada, 2009.

Missed Tests: If a test is missed for a legitimate medical or compassionate reason the student must get in touch with the instructor, provide related documentation if requested, and arrange for a make-up text. Under normal circumstances, the student is required to inform the instructor of their request for a make-up test within one week of the original test date, however given the abbreviated nature of this course, students are expected to contact the instructor within 2-3 days of a missed test. Failure to request a make-up test within the expected time frame may result in ineligibility for a make-up test and a mark of zero for that test.

Late Assignments: Late assignments will incur a penalty of 2 marks for each day the assignment is late unless the student has contacted the instructor before the assignment due date and requested a time extension. Time extensions will only be given for documented medical and compassionate reasons.

Academic Integrity: Students should acquaint themselves with the University's policy on "Examinations: Personations" and "Plagiarism and Cheating" found in the Undergraduate Calendar.
