

Course description for:

Fish in Research Wet Lab

Instructor: Animal Health Technician

Session Dates: As needed upon request.

Session Length: 3 hour

Who Should Attend: All students and researchers who need to work with fish for their research project.

Prerequisite: Animal User Training Course: Fish or equivalent, Facility Orientation

Training Session Objectives:

1. To introduce fish users to the aquatic holding facility.
2. To provide users with information regarding proper fish acquisition and housing.
3. To be able to recognize a sick fish.
4. To understand the basic concepts for anesthetizing fish.
5. To understand proper methods for tagging (if required).
6. To understand correct methods for injections in fish (if required).
7. To understand correct methods for blood collection in fish. (if required).
8. To understand proper methods of euthanasia.

Location: Z100 Duff Roblin Bldg

Min/Max # of People: 1 to 4